

Times Change. Life Challenges Remain the Same.

Uncertain Times...

Unexpected Life Changes...

Separation From Loved Ones...

Many of the life challenges that we face today have been faced by every generation since time began. Professional Speaker and Living History Interpreter Gayle Martin will take your audience on a journey back in time where they will be inspired as they discover how one generation faced their life challenges and coped during difficult times.

Topic

“Anna Ferguson: WWII Housewife & Defense Worker”

Anna’s world has suddenly been turned upside-down by war! Her husband has joined the Service and she is left to deal with shortages at home while working at a ‘man’s’ job. Anna faces these challenges with grace and dignity as she exemplifies the selfless efforts made by countless everyday women during WWII.

Your audience will be moved as they learn the reasons why this generation has become known as “The Greatest Generation.” Within the historical context of their ‘time travel trip,’ they will relive the moment and experience examples of:

- Altruism
- Courage
- Family Values
- Life Changes
- Patriotism
- Teamwork

Add these ‘history lessons’ to any family or professional environment and you will have a foundation for success.

What Audiences Are Saying About Gayle Martin

“A must see for young people today that really can’t relate to war. They learn things they never knew.”

– Anne Wolbert, Arizona State University West

“The whole aspect of the era is usually never brought up in [discussions of] everyday terrorism and its impact on the nation.”

– Laura Cardinas, Phoenix, Arizona

“Believability, well rehearsed, well done. Very relevant and helpful.”

– Chaplain Stephen J. Zachary, USN
